Liquor Hearings Before Alderman Are Finished UpFourteen of 20 Cases Go to Court; Three Are Discharged.*THREE CASES CONTINUED*Attorney for Defendants Endeavor to Learn Names of Those Back of Raid; Just Counsel for Commonwealth Objects; H. L. Krepps Mentioned.*The preliminary hearings following the daylight liquor raid in this city last Friday were completed yesterday afternoon before Alderman W. D. Colborn. Of the 20 persons arrested 12 were bound over for the grand jury, two waived hearings, three were discharged for lack of evidence and three cases were continued.*Greater interest was displayed in the hearings held before the alderman yesterday afternoon than on the day previous. It was necessary to use the big auditorium of the Macabee building to accommodate the crowd.*Cases not called for hearings yesterday were those of J. M. Lollar and George W. Snyder. No time has been set for bringing these defendants before the alderman.*Peter and James Foyles, waiters at the Cunningham, Dennis Johnson and Jasper Washington, the latter two colored, were discharged.*An effort was made yesterday by counsel for the defendants to learn the identity of those back of the raid. Before Attorney Spurgin, for the Commonwealth, could interpose an objection to the question of Attorney John Duggan, Jr., representing Robert Laddis, bartender at the Smith House, W. E. McClelland, one of the agents who secured information leading to the arrests, said he had received pay through H. L. Krepps. No further information could be secured although Attorney Duggan contended the examination was entirely proper and that each defendant had right to know his accuser. Alderman Colborn ruled the signed information was sufficient.*The first case called was that of Bertha Mitchell, colored, of Uniontown. McClelland testified she had visited her home twice, giving the principal duties involved the management of business affairs, or such positions in the various branches of the postal service. Candidates must also show that they have demonstrated ability to meet and deal with the public satisfactorily.*Vacancies exist in a number of offices for which no examination date has yet been set. Among them are South Connellsburg, Dawson, Fulchance and West Brownsville. Foyles: Boswell in Somerset, and Yukon in Westmoreland county.*August 13 Fixed as Date for Examination of Candidates for Appointment as Postmasters*Connellsville, Uniontown, Brownsville, Somerset and Others on List.*80 POINTS FOR FITNESS*According to information from Washington City the time for making the selection of a postmaster for Connellsburg, and providing relief from the suspense which exists because of the protracted delay in naming a successor to W. D. McGlenn, former incumbent, and R. W. McCormick, acting postmaster, is being more closely approached.*The Civil Service commission has determined upon August 13 as the date for holding an examination of the applicants for a large number of offices in Pennsylvania and adjoining states. Connellsburg is among the offices in this list which also includes Jiji Shimp today, makes reservations concerning general far eastern concerns until more has been learned as to the scope and nature of the questions to be considered.*What the significance is of President Harding's call for a far eastern conference and how such a conference would affect Japan's future position in world affairs are the queries dominating public discussion. The trend of this discussion creates the impression that while Japan anticipated a call for a conference with Great Britain and the United States and is particularly desirous of reaching a workable understanding with America, she is surprised at the inclusion of other powers in the invitation and looks with trepidation on an international examination of a magnitude promising to exceed pre-conceived ideas into war cost considerations.*The order modifies the executive order of former President Wilson who, in March, 1917, placed all postmasters under the civil service and directing that when examinations for vacancies in the postmasterships were held that only the candidate marking the highest percentage should be certified to the postmaster general for appointment.*According to information given out about a month ago the successful aspirant will not have to pass a rigid educational test but will be rated according to education and training, which counts 20 points, and business experience and fitness, which count 80 points out of a total of 100.*For offices paying $2,000 to $4,000 a year, in which class Connellsburg is included, applicants must show that for at least three years they have held responsible positions in which the principal duties involved the management of business affairs, or such positions in the various branches of the postal service. Candidates must also show that they have demonstrated ability to meet and deal with the public satisfactorily.*The agent admitted he was paid to gather the information disclosing violations of the liquor law in this city. McClelland and Attorney Patterson of Uniontown, also representing the defendants, had a set-up when the attorney made fun of the method used by the detectives to get the whisky. McClelland told Patterson he called the liquor at the Mitchell place "and it fit." Asked what kind, he replied "Golden Wedding." The attorney asked if that was the detective's brand.*The agent admitted he was paid to gather the information disclosing violations of the liquor law in this city. J. Mier, manager of the Keystone company, notes that conditions in the building trade are not so bad as they have appeared to those who are not in close touch with the business. Although last year was the best in point of volume of business done by his company, Mr. Mier says the first half of this year has shown a marked improvement over the same period of 1920. New building has not shown very considerable increase but in other lines there has been a gain.*Among the contracts recently closed by the Keystone company are two for an aggregate of 6,700 barrels of cement. The bulk, 5,500 barrels, is to be used in the construction of the Connellsville end of the Connellsville-Karnington road. The remainder, 1,200 barrels, will be used by the West Penn in repaving between the rails and one foot outside on Crawford avenue.*A car of dressed red fir lumber from Oregon was received a few days ago by the company. At the instance of the State Highway Department the 1921 legislature gave consideration to this matter and enacted legislation which received the approval of Governor Sproul and which will give the State Highway Department power to extend the width of important throughfares so that they will be adequate for the safety of road users.*The exterior of the building will be covered with steel lath and stucco and a new roof put on. The interior will be remedied to provide five living rooms, on the second floor. The first floor, with the exception of an office room, will be fitted up for the machinery used in the manufacture of boxes. The building will be otherwise placed in complete repair for the purpose intended.*Work is to commence at once and will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible, it being the desire of Mr. Yost to have the plant in readiness for operation as little delay as possible. The product of the factory will include both light wood and pasteboard containers, such as cigar, candy, toby and other boxes.*The department hopes by this procedure to save the enormous expenditure which will necessarily be entailed in widening arterial roadways after improvements have been completed. To this end it is working in conjunction with the Suburban Association of the Main Line, whose membership is composed of students of the highway problem in Philadelphia and the adjacent counties of Delaware, Montgomery and Bucks.*Commissioner Sadler and the engineering forces of the department are looking ahead 15 and 20 years to the traffic which will be using the roads of Pennsylvania. The recent legislature gave the department authority to extend the width of highways to 120 feet. That a number of arterial thoroughfares will be extended to that width eventually is a certainty. If these were postponed or delayed improvements, the cost would be extraordinarily high, as was the cost of opening the parkway in Philadelphia several years ago.*Commissioner Sadler believes that by setting the lines now property owners will be build back of those lines.*The great increase in motor vehicle traffic within the limits of the larger municipalities of Pennsylvania will eventually necessitate the building of thoroughfares skirting these municipalities and wide enough to accommodate several streams of traffic going in both directions. Within a few years it will be unsafe to send heavy trans-Pennsylvania traffic into Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, for example, inasmuch as addition to this traffic will add to the congestion of the down-town districts. Consequently wide roads must be provided around the larger cities so that traffic may be accommodated.*FIRST CONCERT ENJOYED*Lester Crawford Is Soloist For Military Band.*A large and appreciative crowd heard a delightful concert given last evening on the Cameron school grounds by the Connellsville Military Band.*Lester J. Mrs. Kaber Is Carried Into Court; Weeps

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., July 16.—Mrs. Eva K. Kaber was carried into the court room by bailiffs this morning when her trial on a charge of murdering her husband, Daniel Kaber, was resumed. When seated she clasped the arm of the attending bailiff seated at her side and said she pleaded that he not leave her.

"Don't leave me, don't leave me; you won't leave me," she said.

William Corrigan, Mrs. Kaber's attorney, tried to quiet her.

"I want to tell them everything but Mr. Corrigan won't let me," she sobbed to the bailiff. Mrs. Kaber's hat had fallen from her head and her hair was disheveled.

Dr. P. A. Jacobs, who was county coroner at the time of the murder, testified that Mr. Kaber's death was caused by stab wounds which he received on the night of July 18, 1919. He also declared that he thought Mrs. Kaber was "perfectly sane" when she testified at the inquest conducted before him.

LIQUOR HEARINGS ARE FINISHED UP

or at the Smith House, was the second board. McClelland testified he and Grant had made several visits to the bar before Landis would agree to procure any whisky for them. The same red headed fellow who took them to several other street places, as given in testimony by McClelland Wednesday, made things right for him with Landis, the agent declared. He said he did not know the man's name and that he had since left the city. The operative told of buying a pint of liquor from Landis for which he paid $2.50. He said the bartender handed him, wrapped in a newspaper, Landis gave $1,000 bull for court.

The next case was that of Andy Beaudelaire, bartender at the St. James Hotel. His counsel sought to establish that he had been made an agent by McClelland to secure whisky for him. The operative told of going to the hotel on the morning of June 21 and asking for whisky which the bartender was unable to give him. He said he returned that evening and Boskada got a half pint from his coat pocket, turning it over to a young fellow at the bar, subsequently giving it to him. He said his pal Boskada had been drinking.

The defendant was bold for court.

The agent told of buying liquor three different times from Harry Knight, known as "Yellow." He said he secured the liquor at the home of the defendant in Meadow Lane on June 21, 22 and 23. Knight was held for court.

McClelland said he bought liquor on two occasions from John Brooks at the Penn Taxi & Transfer company. The dates were given as June 22 and 23. On the second day he said Ray Cunningham was present but had no part in the transaction. Brooks was held for court and Cunningham discharged.

McClelland testified to visiting the residence of Dennis Johnson, colored, at 128 Peach alloy, on June 22 and 23. He said he and Grant made single purchases, the latter "mouthing" his and the latter depositing it in a small bottle. He said "Mannie Cools" served them one time and a short dark fellow the next. The woman was held because his residence had not been sufficiently established.

The operative testified to purchasing liquor twice from Jane Washington, also colored, at the Boston restaurant, located opposite the police station. Her husband, Jasper Washington, was discharged.

SCOTTDALE, July 15.—Miss Edna Krouse, librarian, and her assistants yesterday began taking inventory of the books at the library and preparations will be made immediately for the moving of the library into its new quarters in the Reid building. The rooms secured are those over the West Penn waiting room and the Warner store. The partitions will be removed, throwing the entire suite into one large room, which will be painted and decorated. The library will not be moved much before August 1, the date on which the school board wishes to have the rooms now occupied by the library vacated.

It will be a great task to move the library as there are over 13,000 books on the shelves besides the magazines, reference books, etc.

It is the intention of Miss Krouse to have the library closed only a few days while moving.

The grade rooms of the high school building will be moved into the rooms now occupied by the library and the rooms in which the grade school is now held will be turned over to the high school students.

What "Carbonating" Does to Ice Cream

ICE CREAM manufactured under HAGAN'S process of "carbonating" has two great advantages over ordinary ice cream. It is infinitely purer, and it is much more delicious.

If you examine ice cream under a microscope you will find that it is full of tiny bubbles of air. Ordinarily this is just the air we breathe, never quite pure. We freeze our ice cream in a sterile atmosphere 100 times purer than air.

Hagan's Ice Cream

is "Different from the Others"

When you buy our ice cream you buy ice cream that is 100% safe. It is made safe by using only the finest ingredients, richest cream, purest syrups, fruit juices, and freezing it in a pure, sterile, germ-free atmosphere. This is a costly process but we believe that you will appreciate our unceasing efforts to give you a better ice cream.

Best and Purest

Our ice cream is not only the purest, but it is the best. Try mixing ice cream and syrups with plain water. You'll find it flat, almost unpleasant. But substitute carbonated water and you'll enjoy a mixture full of life and sparkle. The flavor will be enhanced by carbonated water. So does carbonating enhance the richness and flavor of ice cream. If your dealer can't provide you our CARBONATED ICE CREAM send us his name and address. But accept no other. Tell the children where to go for ice cream.

The children will like it best and it is best for them

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 18, 1924
THE "LITTLE MOTHERS."

The Little Mothers League, organized under the direction of the State Department of Health, brings to Connellsville another of the useful agencies whereby the principles and practice of health conservation will be taught to a new group of persons. In enrolling young girls who in many homes have actually to perform the very important and sometimes very trying duty of "little mother" to baby brothers and sisters, the instruction to be imparted in the care of young children will be of incalculable value, not only to the homes from which the girls are recruited, but to the girls themselves.

By completing the course of instruction these girls will acquire a knowledge which will serve in a most excellent way to assist in qualifying them for the duties of home-makers in future years. As a result of the application of the knowledge they will acquire during the course it is not too much to say that the lives of young children will be saved, and the health of others made more vigorous. The employment of the approved methods of child care which will be taught these girls, will relieve many a tired and worn mother of what has been a very trying task.

House will be brightened and made more cheerful by the lifting of such burdens; because of the intelligent aid these girls will learn to give their own mothers, or to those who fill the offices in homes from which the mother has been taken away.

Fortunate are the mothers of Connellsville to have at their disposal the service of the baby clinic, equally fortunate are those young girls who will have the opportunity to better qualify themselves to serve in the intimate, tender, and happy relationship of "little mother" to a baby brother or sister.

POLICE WILL NOT CHANGE.
It is significant to note that the equitable, reasonable and fair and fearless influential Democratic newspapermen are commanding the course of President Harding in pointing out the urgent necessity of deterring enactment of the soldier bonus bill until the finances of the government will make it possible to meet its requirements without impairing the financial policy. It is no less significant that the unreasonable, unfair and therefore unmeaningful papers of the same political persuasion are making no headway in trying to make political capital out of the situation for the purpose of diverting public attention from the fact that the present condition of government finances is one of the legacies of the unbridled extravagance of the last administration.

Refusing to admit what they well know to be true that the policies of the Wilson administration wellnigh bankrupted the nation, the party newspaper organs have not the fairness to concede that could the nation have afforded it, an honorarium to the ex-service men would have been available very shortly after the change in occupants of the White House. Just as reluctantly do they refuse to grant that the promises of the Republican platform of 1920, which plaid the party and the Administration "to discharge to the full" the obligations which a grateful nation justly should fulfill "in appreciation of its defenders on sea and land," are being kept.

These organs are also unwilling of the fact that the present Congress has provided many millions for the maimed and disabled, in addition to the $10,000,000 expended for that purpose in the fiscal year just closed. The bonus bill has assumed form satisfactory to the organizations of the veterans which have been interested in the measure. Its recommissional committee, as suggested by President Harding, to avail the formulation of some practical plan that will enable a now overburdened treasury to meet its requirements is convincing proof that the present administration realizes the country cannot stand by under the staggering burden imposed by the Democratic spending orgy and at the same time provide the $3,000,000,000 estimated to be needed to meet the provisions of the bonus bill. It is unthinkable, he says, to expect the resumption of the normal ways of peace while maintaining the excessive taxes of war.

It is one of the faults of Democratic extravagance that people usually have lost all appreciation of what a Wilson dollar means to the country. And if Grant Wilson, a Secretary of War, can't understand hundreds of collisions with the laws of God, how can he expect to understand the excesses of war?

hundreds of thousands. The Republican party has inherited these colonial obligations and the American people have been pledged by their reckless former stewards to pay them. But the historic policy which has marked the attitude of the Republican party toward the soldier and sailor of all the wars in which our country has participated has not changed and will not change.

BERNARD O'CONNOR.

Scores and scores of people in this vicinity who during his lifetime counted it their privilege to know and enjoy the friendship of the late Bernard O'Connor, John today is extending their tenderest sympathy to the bereaved family and friends.

Having known Mr. O'Connor as a man whose heart was as big as his hand-chaps, was warm and cordial, those who lament his death do so because of the long they suffer in the passing of one whose loyalty to friends was an outstanding trait of his character.

When a man sustains such relations to the people of a community that they call him by a name which has become so familiar his baptismal name is forgotten, it is proof that he has qualities of mind and heart that endear him to his friends and win the good will of those least closely associated with him.

For those qualities "Barney" O'Connor will long be held in kindly remembrance by those who knew him as friend, neighbor and citizen.

The defense of some of the defendants appearing before Alderman Colborn on charges of illegal liquor selling apparently does not annoy as much as the product they are alleged to have dispensed.

If the health of Connellsville children is not preserved it will be because of neglect or refusal to take advantage of the splendid service the State Department of Health is providing through its capable, willing and faithful representatives.

Here's hoping the weatherman in London will continue to provide an atmosphere that is just right for the promotion of peace between England and Ireland.

The superlatives among the candidates for the local postmastership will see their fate sealed in the selection of August 13th as the day for the civil service examination.

Evidently Japan thinks the Far East question is too close home to consent to join in a discussion of it at the disarmament conference.

Fines Won't Stop 'Em
Latrobe Bulletin.

That the old-fashioned way of wrapping the lines about the whip is not yet adaptable to automobile driving was emphasized yesterday by a justice of the peace in the eastern part of the state, who issued a warning to drivers to keep their hands on the steering wheel and their arms away from the waists of their girl companions, while motoring.

The justice declared that entirely too many men were turning the wheel over to their girls, and then doing a little hugging with the machine making zigzags along the road.

He said that he was going to put a stop to it, not only through fining the men, but also the girls, and also recommending the revocation of automobile licenses.

It cannot be said with authority that many drivers in this part of the state are emulating those of the east, in this way, it being preferred by them to draw up alongside the road in the shade of the evening.

Yet, even though it may not be with the idea of forming opportunity for embracing, remains a fact that time and again young men may be seen teaching girls to drive a motor car—and almost invariably they seem to pick out the most heavily traveled road, at the busiest time of the day or evening, on which to do the teaching.

It must be put down as a dangerous practice. Motor driving should be taught upon a little frequented highway and under conditions not so dangerous as are to be found upon the Lincoln highway on a Sunday afternoon.

Incidentally, in regard to the bugling in automobiles, the chances are that watchful waiting would disclose to observers that almost as many girls have their arms around their heads, as there are boys with their arms around their beloved. And they don't seem to care who sees them.

Old Dobbin has gone out of use, with the lines and the whip took no longer being availed of in manner of row.

But the world is pretty much as it was in regard to what occurred then, when two were wrong. Fines won't stop 'em.

Edgar A. GuestTHE LIVING WORLD.

Let all who will sing "After Death." The sky is blue today. The blossoms everywhere about make sweet the breath of May. The dead have passed from pain and care but still remain behind. Need comfort and the friendly smile to share their way along.

And life is good and life is sweet as men are brave and true. And laughter lives and joy is born when kindly deeds they do.

I know there is a heaven to be by but me prove my worth to me By lightening the loads of care which have come on me since I left home. And let me sing the living joys, the fragrant morning breeze.

The roses jeweled fair with dew, the sunlight on the trees. Though after death comes rest and here we are where we bide now. There is a wealth of happiness for all who're living now.

So I would sing the living world, the world that now we see. With children playing in the sun and blossoms on the tree; And I would sing the friendly hearts which help us all to smile.

Which make the world a paradise.

And I would walk the world of men, and with them take and live. And learn with all the care and strife, that it is good to live.

"Till wear red shoestrings, so you won't mind me," said King David. But he had said it when she promised to wait him in front of the pinstripe. We'd like to be a doctor so we could leave a banquet immediately after the cream.

Special to The Courier
MOUNT PLEASANT July 15—The body of Lieutenant William C. Stevenson of Company E, 110th Infantry arrived in Connellsville today, and was brought to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Stevenson of Ziegler street, where it will remain until 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when it will be taken to the Re-Union Presbyterian Church and lay in state until 3 o'clock, at which time the funeral services will be held.

At the time of his death Mr. Stevenson was 27 years old and was one of the best known young business men of Mount Pleasant. When he graduated with Company E, Mr. Stevenson was associated with his father, S. C. Stevenson, in the real estate and insurance business, with offices in Church street.

Lieutenant Stevenson was killed July 22, 1918, it being almost three years to the day from the time he was killed until his body was brought home.

He was a member of as well as a faithful worker in the Re-Union Presbyterian church where the services will be held.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Stevenson, one sister, Miss Viola Stevenson, and his widow, Mrs. Arctic Doncaster Stevenson.

Sunday School Picnic Held.

The Re-Union Presbyterian church and Sunday school held its annual picnic yesterday with the largest crowd in attendance in the history of the Sunday school. The picnic was held at Scout's grove, near Kechsburg. Instead of each family taking a basket the menu was divided, one family baking meat loaf, one furnishing bread, another butter, etc., with the men supplying the fruit and ice cream. During one of the races Mrs. Lemmon of Diamond street turned her ankle, throwing her on her shoulder and severely spraining it. Dr. W. A. Birrell, who was a member of the picnic party, gave Mrs. Lemmon first aid and she was then removed to her home here.

Funeral Reserved.

Mrs. Patrick McNamee underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils and adenoids at the Memorial Hospital here.

At the Theatres

THE SOMMSON.

"THE BEAUTIFUL GAMBLER," the feature attraction today and tomorrow, is a great drama of the west. The story concerns a girl who tries to save her father from disgrace by covering his gambling losses by her marriage to the owner of the gambling hall. It is a hideously dismal marriage to her and she is released from her bondage when the hall burns and the man is believed to have perished in the flames. She marries another man and is experiencing her first real happiness in life when an amazing sequence of events, flashed to the screen with amazing rapidity brings the story to a breathless climax that will establish it as one of the most dramatic entertainments of the decade. One of the most thrilling night fire scenes ever taken is that which shows the burning of the gambling hall. An actual burning of the type occupied by rooms of this sort in the early days of the West was erected for this scene. Several actors and actresses narrowly escaped injury in jumping from the upstairs windows while it was being photographed.

THE PARAGON.

"SOULS OF MEN," a five-act picture featuring an all-star cast, and the fourth episode of "The Purple Riders," a thrilling serial with Joe Ryan in the leading role are being presented today. Both pictures are interesting throughout and the program will entertain and please all patrons of the theatre.

THE ORPHEUM.

"LITTLE MISS REBELLION," a Paramount picture with Dorothy Gish in a pleasing role, is the feature attraction today and tomorrow. A lonely little grand duchess of a mythical European duchy is the central figure in the picture. The royal miss finally breaks through the retinues who guard her and mingles with some bell-playing American soldiers. Thus she becomes acquainted with Sergeant Dick Ellis and attends a jazz ball with him. Then comes the revolution that sweeps the duchess from her throne and sends her flying with a faithful old grenadier to America. In New York she becomes chief智囊 mixer in a quick-lunch and the reunion with Ellis, now in civs, follows. An excellent supporting cast has been provided for Miss Gish in "Little Miss Rebellion." In the cast appear such established players as Ralph Graves, George Salmon, William Riley Hatch and Marie Burke.

COKER INDEPENDENTS PLAY WHITNEY OUTFIT TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Although the Connellsville Independents are now in the cellar position in the Fayette-Westmoreland League, through their defeat of Wednesday at the hands of the Rough Valley Independents, they are confident that they will advance a notch tomorrow, when they meet the Whitney team at Fayette Field.

The locals intend to step their best in the fracas with the visitors, as a win over Whitney will place all the teams on an equal basis with a victory and a defeat registered against each team in the League. That Connellsville has an even break with Whitney can be judged by the two-game series of July 4 when each team won one and dropped one.

Whitney is "tougher meat" than Frank Tarr's aggregation, figures the Connellsville management, but a much stronger outfit will oppose the one worsers than they faced on July 4th. The locals will place McKinley in E. Fisher's position at shortstop. Yanchus will fill the gap in right field. Both of these new players are strong hitters and excellent fielders. Yanchus showed his mettle when Fisher was withdrawn in Wednesday's "nightmare," and Steve was shifted from right into short where he put up a coring game, although he had never covered that position before. McKinley is rated as one of the best shortstops in independent ball-dom.

Whitney, to hold its lead in the home, may use Hiltz to oppose Connellsville tomorrow. The star pitcher, however, is one of Whitney's best pitchers. Should Hiltz not twirp, Beck will undoubtedly do the flinging. Connellsville will use "Babbitt" Eisner on the mound, which will make the locals' outfit one of the strongest they have sent on the diamond this year.

The game is sure to attract a monster crowd, as the League has aroused considerable interest throughout the entire section. The game will be called at 3:30 sharp.

The Dunbar team will play the Young Valley Independents at Dickerson Park on August 5 and a return game will be played at Dunbar on August 19. Tomorrow night the Dunbar and Mount Braddock teams will play at Dunbar. A game at Dunbar between the Dunbar and Republic teams is scheduled for Saturday night at Dunbar. The games will be called at 5 o'clock.

The R. P. S. S. baseball team of Wheeler defeated the Redmore Tigers in a hard fought contest, Tuesday evening on Redmore grounds by the score of 7 to 6. The features of the game were a home-run hit by Heon and the good pitching of Jaynes. He had 12 strikeouts to his credit. The Wheeler team will play the following teams this week: Thursday evening, West Side at Wheeler; Friday evening, North End Tornadoes at Davidson, and Saturday evening Owendsdale at Owendsdale.

"Pep" French's baseball team of the West Side defeated the Fourth ward nine in an interesting game yesterday by a score of 4-3. The game lasted five innings.

The Trotter baseball team won another victory yesterday afternoon when it defeated the Phillips nine by the score of 8-2. A. Smitkey, Trotter's first sacker was on the mound for Trotter and allowed but seven hits. Phillips scored two runs in the openinginning by bunching four hits on Smitkey. Trotter tightened up and got 12 hits, scoring 8 runs. Batteries for Phillips were Smitkey and Conenko, and for Trotter, Smitkey, Conenko, and Swope.

M. E. Team Is Given Beating

The Methodist Episcopal church team, after performing in unbelievable fashion a week ago and trouncing the Methodist Protestants, took an awful thump last night and played like a second division outfit instead of a contender for pennant honors. The M. E. team lost by the score of 16-8 to the Christians.

Frank Jones, an M. E. player, was knocked unconscious by a pitched ball when the sphere struck him in the head. He went into the game in the next inning, however.

CAPSTAN GLASS TEAM VICTOR OVER FORT HILL
The fast Capstan Glass baseball team of South Connellsville added another victim to its growing list when it defeated the Fort Hill Tigers of Dawson by the score of 6 to 2. The game was in doubt until the sixth inning when the local club scored three runs, giving them a lead which the Tigers could not overcome.

The score by innings:
Fort Hill: 320 000 00-2
Capstan Glass: 020 103 0X-6
Durbin and Livingston: Moorman and Clawson.

Jeweled Ornaments.
Jeweled ornaments catch up the draperies of ladies' frocks. These robes, enriched with brilliants or diamonds, are particularly fashionable for the summer. The new corsages are designed to give an absolute fit back, but are slightly higher over the bust, and the sides curve instead of a straight line. They are extremely popular with Parisians.

West Penn Supplies Much Fuel for Mining of Coal

The economical advantages and desirability of central station power for the mining of coal have come to be recognized in Western Pennsylvania, a region where "coal is king" as nowhere else in America perhaps. This is attested by the fact that the West Penn Power company alone serves 400 mining operations, and during 1920 furnished the energy for the production in round figures of 40,000,000 tons of coal.

Electric power is used for all purposes in the mining of coal. Some mines are operated entirely with purchased power; others have mixed drives with a tendency toward taking all the service from the power company lines.

While the Western Pennsylvania coal fields have yielded an enormous tonnage, there remain vast areas yet untouched, particularly in the southwestern part of the territory, and it now appears that most of this coal will be developed by companies

INQUIRY FOR FURNACE COKE REGARDED AS CHEERFUL NEWS

Especially As It Indicates Re-sumption of a Long Idle Stack.

MARKET IS NOT SO STIFF

As Week Ago But Remains at $2.00 per Ton for Large Furnaces; Small Lots for Other Purposes Go at Less; Four-day Minimum Maintained at $4.00.

Special to The Weekly Courier
PITTSBURGH, July 13.—The Wickes-Spence Steel company, Buffalo, N. Y., is out with an inquiry for 20,000 tons of Connellsville furnace coke for delivery during August and September, enough to operate one of its large size furnaces, now out of blast. This is the first case for many months of an inquiry for coke based on prospective resumption of an idle furnace and it therefore looks like decidedly cheerful news. The inquiry is coupled with an observation that the question of whether or not the furnace is blown in will hinge to a considerable extent on the price that is quoted for coke. Operators, however, do not see the market in this light, for they are anticipating of coke market fluctuations in terms of nickel and dimes, and do not see a little bit one way or the other would make much difference in the cost of producing pig iron. What they are interested in is who will get the order, which may well be decided on a margin of five cents.

The spot furnace coke market has not maintained the stiffened position it had at the time of last report and is, in fact, at a fort-night ago. The regular market price is $2.00 but the market is by no means strong at that figure. Any seller who really hopes to get an order is careful not to quote above $3.00 for regular furnace coke, but there is really only a small tonnage available at this figure as occasional surges on the part of an operator who has ovens running on contract or a little coke is accommodated at late. As the market demand is extremely light, no tonnage at the point is only theoretical but it is a fact that no considerable tonnage of spot or prompt coke could be bought at $3.00. A few late sized orders would clean up the floating supply, and then coke could be had only by additional ovens being blown in. It is altogether improbable that any operator would blow in ovens, unless for a good run at less than $3.50. This is on the basis of wage rates generally prevailing though it is thought in some quarters that an operator who could promise steady employment would be able to get labor without difficulty at considerably less than the going rates.

Sales of spot furnace coke in the past week have been confined practically altogether to small lots sold through brokers to miscellaneous users, not blast furnaces, and these sales have generally been at $3.00 net to the consumer, a few operators being willing to allow the broker a small margin. Coke below standard goes at least one sale of inferior quality having been at $2.75 to the consumer. Heating coke is in poor demand. The usual asking price is $2.75 but a little might be picked up at $2.50.

Foundry coke prices are moderate and well maintained, as to the minimum, but the higher prices recently asked have practically disappeared such as $5.00 and $4.75, and it is difficult to sell high grade coke even at $4.50. On the other hand really standard coke cannot be had at under $4.00. Reports of sales at less referring undoubtedly to coke below standard grading.

It is no long since any contracts for furnace coke were made for periods of two or three months or more that there is no close line for quoting the market. A little business might be taken on at $4.00 by an operator who was certain to operate in any event. For a three-month period some operators insist they could not afford to start ovens and run at less than $3.50 while other operators say they do not know but that they might quote $3.25 since while their cost as now figured is $3.50 they might be able to get their cost down to $3.00 and assure a steady run. The market is thus quotable as follows:

Spot furnace $2.00
Contract furnace $2.00
Spot foundry $2.00

The pig iron market is as quiet as ever, if not more so. There has been no movement in Valley basic iron since the transaction that put the market down 50 cents to $20. Valley and the Valley market thus remains quatable at the old figure. In one or two cases furnaces nearer Pittsburgh than the Valley have sold iron to Pittsburgh consumers at about a dollar a ton less than the iron would have cost delivered if bought at $20 Valley, and thus it might be said that there has been a decline in the Pittsburgh market but not in the Valley market. The Valley furnaces may however, find it necessary to meet the competition. Bessener is offered at $21.50 or dollar under the former nominal quotation. Foundry remains at the old price though rate could probably be shaded on an attractive order. The market as a whole is quatable as follows:

Bessener $21.50
Basic $22.00
Foundry $21.00

These prices are f.o.b. Valley furnaces. Freight to Pittsburgh is $1.95
